

The Amok Time Pages

Other than the “money shots” of the HD version of the Enterprise and the Planet Vulcan, this is another one of the other new shots in Amok Time: the Bridge to Spock’s family’s place of Kunit-Kalifee. The three figures walking across it are, of course, Spock, Kirk, and McCoy.

Here you get a wide view of the place; I love how the city was added into the background to give it atmosphere.

As much as I pick on T'Pol, you have to give the girl her props. She had everything figured out well before she even got to the wedding. Poor, simple-minded Stonn is the only idiot in all of this.

I especially like how Spock complimented her on her logic in the end. Spock: always a class act.

Diverting your spaceship without your Captains Permission: Confinement to quarters.

Missing the Altars VI Presidential inauguration: Possible Court Martial.

Getting rejected at the alter & having your fiancé pick your Frat-boy Captain over you:
Priceless.
